Presenting F. G. Miller's Class of '97

The 32 members of F. G. Miller High School's Class of 1997 were presented to a capacity crowd of proud families and friends on Saturday, May 17 at their class farewell ceremonies.

Sharing the MC duties for the evening were two former members of the class, Jennifer Rae, who left Elk Point in Grade 8, and David Naber, who left last summer. The evening opened with the singing of O Canada by Rayna Sanregret, accompanied by her aunt, Gabe Bayduza, on piano.

The Class of '97 entered the gymnasium to the processional, "Forever Young," and took their seats on a stage flanked by stars and moons bearing their names, and framed by tiny, twinkling lights in a cloud-like swag of tulle.

Principal Jim Hawkins said the Class of '97 have been "excellent role models in the school and the community" and have achieved many things. He noted that these students have a wide variety of talents, and "I can't imagine the distance they will go," and assured them that they "will have the strength within to choose which road they will take. You will meet those challenges and I know you will succeed." Hawkins also offered congratulations on behalf of Carmen Brodziak and the School Board.

Class Historians Christa Hammond and Neil Kozicky gave a brief rundown on each student as Loren Kozicky and Laura Oszust, representing the Senior and Junior High Students

Town will help cash-strapped golf club

That the Town of Elk Point is proud of its local golf course and is willing to help keep it operating was apparent at last Monday's Town Council meeting, when requests for financial assistance made by the Elk Point Golf and Country Club were approved.

Golf Club representative Danny Povaschuk appeared before Council to ask for an amendment to the Town's lease to the club, abolishing the $3000 annual rent. He said the club was also looking for forgiveness of this year's water bill, or a grant to cover the cost. The club is currently paying off a substantial loan for their recent installation of grass greens and other improvements, and may have to pay taxes to the County of St. Paul on the property, Povaschuk said.

Council later voted to remove the rent clause from the lease agreement, and to give the club a grant to cover the actual water usage costs for 1997.

Also at the Recreation Park, approval was given for the construction of dugouts on the baseball diamond.

An application to rezone a parcel of land on Railway Avenue was the subject of a public hearing just before the Council meeting, with two people speaking against the rezoning, and none speaking

Unions respectively, presented school pins.

Talented graduand Tyson Lawrence, backed up by Loren Kozicky and Shaun Cameron, sang "Don't Cry," earning a standing ovation from his peers.

Class Presidents Amber Kopeck and Shaun Moroziuk heaved a joint sigh of relief that their big job was done, and thanked grad advisor Cheri Lindquist for her help, understanding and "enormous amount of negotiating skills." Amber and Shaun were presented with gifts by Sheri Makowecki.

Mrs. Lindquist said that in her many years as grad advisor, she has learned flexibility. "Each class is unique... with different standards and traits." This year's class theme, "What lies before us and what lies behind us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us," is "all about" compassion, cooperation and integrity, she said. This was her first class to virtually all show up at the first processional practice "and do it right the first time" and her first class to have a member's band play at the ceremonies. Mrs. Lindquist presented the annual citizenship awards to four deserving students, Robyn Danyluk, Amber Kopeck, Shaun Moroziuk and Leslie Hillebrand.

A slide show, picturing the Class of '97 as tots and then as young men and women, was accompanied by "Get By With A Little Help From My Friends."

Michelle Hillebrand brought the ceremonies to an end with an original poem about the class, which ended "Forgetting yesterday is the worst thing we could do, because yesterday holds the memories of me and you."

The graduands left the stage to the recessional, "I'll Remember," and were met by their escorts for the triumphant final parade from the gym.

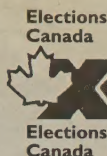

A dance, beginning with the presentation of roses and a grand march, was held in the arena to cap off a most memorable evening.

Their contribution — our heritage

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Each person who has lived in our town or in the area of Elk Point has made a contribution in some way, from the development of the land to the sharing of their personal talents. For example, all we have to do is to go for a drive in the country and we will see farmers in the fields completing last fall's harvest or beginning this year's farming season by preparing the land for seeding. These people are doing what has been done many times before.

Just think, when this area was first settled by homesteaders, the land had to be cleared of trees or improved in some way for these people to keep the land. Today, our farmers are adding to what these first homesteading people started.

Another example of "their contribution" is the sharing of musical talent. Music of fiddle playing, accordion playing to playing of "the spoons," was enjoyed by all as people gathered together to enjoy each other after a day's work was done. Of course, I mustn't overlook the talents of the many great cooks who prepared delicious traditional food enjoyed by all.

I could go on, as there are many more examples of the contributions these people made. But, to remember them and say thanks, is something that has been on my mind lately.

With the Canada Day Committee recognizing 90 years of settlement for the Elk Point area, we are seeking your assistance in locating descendants of our early homesteading people. Please invite them to our Canada Day Celebrations. The committee will be recognizing those pioneer descendants whose ancestors came to this area between 1907 and 1927.

Speaking of our first homesteading people, I would also like to be able to remember those who are buried in our graveyards and other locations in the Elk Point area. Three summers ago — I felt the need to index the graveyards. It was time, for there are still people in the area who knew these people. If we don't do it now, this information could be lost.

After receiving a map of the County of St. Paul plus a list of the official 38 graveyards with land locations, I began reading tombstones during my spare time. This summer I would like to complete the project. To do this, I started as soon as the snow and water had left the graveyards.

I have since learned that there are also people buried on farm land throughout the area. By some graves, a tombstone marks the spot, while other places, no markings can be found.

If you are a farmer in the area and you have come across or you know of people who have been buried on your land, please give me a call at the office at 724-3800 or call me at home at 724-3933.

Canada Day volunteers needed

Plans for Elk Point's 1997 Canada Day salute to 90 Years of Settlement are progressing well, and it's plain to the organizers that the event could be even bigger and better with the assistance of a few more volunteers.

In keeping with the pioneer theme, activities such as log sawing, nail pounding, tug of war and a horseshoe tournament, along with a pie eating contest for the kids, have been suggested. Are there any groups or individuals out there who would like to organize and run one or more of these events? If so, please call

Deanna Easthope at 724-3800 to volunteer.

Many volunteers are already involved with the celebrations, in addition to the Canada Day Committee. church representatives are planning the gospel concert, the Chamber of Commerce is taking care of the pancake breakfast, the Lions Club is spearheading the parade, and the Arena Operating Committee is planning the beerfest.

Nutrition notes

A gluten-free diet

By Shelley Miller-Hertes
Registered Dietician, Elk Point Health Centre

The gluten-free diet is used in the treatment of celiac disease. Gluten is a cereal protein found in wheat, rye, oats, triticale and barley. The exact mechanism of this toxicity has not been established.

The symptoms of celiac disease are varied, but most are related to malabsorption caused by damage to the villi. The villi are the absorptive surfaces of the small intestine. The aim of the treatment of celiac disease is to restore the functional integrity of the villi by completely excluding these grains from the diet.

The diet must be followed for life. It is important to follow the diet closely even when your symptoms have disappeared. Small amounts of gluten can damage your intestine without causing symptoms.

Avoid the following foods:

- Wheat, rye, oats, triticale and barley

- derivatives of these grains, such as hydrolyzed vegetable protein (HVP), hydrolyzed plant protein (HPP), wheat starch, oat gum, malt or malt derivatives, starch or modified starch, spice or seasoning mixtures, and vegetable gums.

Check food labels carefully. If a product just lists "starch," it could be from ingredients of unknown origin. A good rule of thumb is "when in doubt, leave it out."

Substitute any of the following flours for 1 cup of wheat flour. A mixture of gluten-free flours results in a better product than a single-flour substitute.

- 150 ml rice flour plus 75 ml potato flour

- 125 ml soy flour plus 125 ml potato flour

- 250 ml soy flour plus 50 ml potato flour

- 250 ml corn flour

- 225 ml rice flour

- 150 ml potato flour

- 200 ml coarse cornmeal.

Avoid medicines that contain gluten. If you are unsure check with the pharmacist.

Here is a sample celiac diet menu

Breakfast — fruit juice or sliced fresh fruit, cornmeal with brown sugar, egg, milk.

Lunch — cottage cheese or cheddar cheese, fresh fruit salad, rice crackers with margarine, milk, tea or coffee.

Dinner — plain baked halibut with fresh lemon and dill, potato or brown rice, green salad with oil and vinegar dressing, carrots, tapioca pudding, tea or coffee.

Snack — grapes, milk.

Report from the Legislature

By Paul Langevin
MLA

On April 22, the government announced that if you require emergency medical care, you will no longer have to pay the cost of an ambulance transfer from one facility to another that provides a higher level of care.

The Ground Ambulance Services Task Force, appointed in October of 1995 to discuss and make recommendations regarding the ambulance system in Alberta, concluded that the cost of inter-hospital ground ambulance transfers for emergency patients was a major concern of Albertans.

The government has responded by allocating $7 million per year in additional funding to pay for such transfers. From now on, a person requiring care at a facility other than the one they are first taken to, will have the benefit of coverage for a transfer by ground ambulance to a more appropriate facility.

Although this funding covers the cost of the transfer, you or your insurance company will still be responsible for the cost of ambulance transportation to the initial facility.

A portion of the allocated $7 million will be given to the Regional Health Authorities (RHAs) to help fund the services to Albertans under 65 years of age. The rest of the funding will be used to offset increasing use by seniors, as well as to subsidize Alberta Blue Cross coverage provided to low income Albertans. This project will be evaluated at the end of two years to ensure that it is working as it was intended.

I am very pleased by the announcement of this new ambulance funding. When we are faced with the unfortunate situation of a medical emergency, the furthest thing from our minds is the cost of the care that is required. When it is time to pay the bills for these services, many people are unable to afford them. Knowing that extra ground ambulance transfers will now be covered is certainly a relief and will most definitely reduce the financial burden.

If you have any questions on this or any other issue, please contact my office in Edmonton at 422-5843 or in the constituency at 645-6999, St. Paul.

CAR SEAT SAFETY CHECK -- RCMP Cst. T. A. Ashdown and Mariette Mahe of the St. Paul Health Unit check out a child's car seats for local parent Chri Lindquist as part of last week's car seat clinic in Elk Point. Another clinic was held in St. Paul as part of the cooperative effort between the RCMP and Health Unit aimed at keeping children safe in vehicles.

Young travellers are now safer en route, thanks to car seat clinic

Keeping children safe when they are travelling in vehicles was the aim of a clinic held last week in Elk Point, with the RCMP and Public Health combining efforts to check out that car seats for infants, toddlers and larger children were being used properly.

A total of 25 seats were checked out in Elk Point, and a surprising 21 of these did not pass muster. RCMP Cst. T. A. Ashdown, and public health nurses Lois Sheplawy and Mariette Mahe evaluated three infant seats, for children from newborn to 20 pounds, 17 toddler seats for children from 20 to 40 pounds, and five booster seats for children over 40 pounds. Every one of the infant and toddler seats, and one of the booster seats, were being used incorrectly, Mahe said, "But they're correct now. We fixed them."

Most of the parents who brought the seats in for inspection "really appreciated" the clinic, she said. "They weren't aware that the seats weren't being used correctly. Once you explain it to them, they are eager to have the changes made."

Controlled bush party successful -- RCMP report no major problems

By Cst. C.M. Shindruk and
Sgt. P.M. Sherstan
Elk Point RCMP Detachment

In excess of 600 cans of beer and a wide variety of other bottles of liquor flowed in the ditches along Lakewood Road Sunday night as seven members of the Elk Point RCMP set up a check stop outside the property of Hubert Demoissac, where the Elk Point graduating class had organized a bush party.

The large quantities of liquor were dumped in accordance with the provisions under the Gaming and Liquor Regulations, section 87.1 (2) (b) which states "...no person may transport liquor in a vehicle if the liquor is within easy access of an occupant of the vehicle. This applies to liquor that is sealed or previously opened.

In spite of the liquor that was dumped by RCMP the party was still considered to be a success, as over 700 tickets were sold and teenagers from Elk Point, Bonnyville, St. Paul, Vermilion and Edmonton attended. The party continued until the early morning hours of Monday and a cleanup crew arrived at 1 p.m. to clean up the grounds.

RCMP are pleased to say that no major incidents were reported and that the success of the graduating class bush party was largely due to the organizing of the event as well as the 14 volunteer chaperones who circulated amongst the crowd.

Town Council plans new outdoor stage

for it. Later in the meeting, Council moved to defeat the rezoning bylaw.

A new member was appointed to the Subdivision Appeal Board, with Philip Sheplaw approved for this post. Ron Smith was named as Council's SDAB representative.

New members were also ratified for the FCSS Board, with Doreen Watson, Geoff Bishop and John Robertson joining that body. Joanne Ference has submitted her resignation from the Board.

One or more, or possibly a group, of census takers will be hired to count Elk Point's population in the very near future. Councillor Louis Verhagen has volunteered to tabulate the results in return for a donation to the Friends of the Forts.

Elk Point is also advertising for a new Town Manager. Curt Svendsen is retiring as of June 30, and his resignation was accepted with regret.

A request from the Canada Day Committee to look into repairing of the outdoor stage brought forth a whole new concept. The present stage is to be demolished as soon as possible, and replaced with an earth berm topped with a cement pad. The project will be designed to prevent use as a ramp for recreational and other vehicles, and will be long lasting and low in upkeep.

Approval has been received from the Minister of Transportation and Utilities for the sewage lagoon upgrading grant, which will pay 68.64% of the project's costs, estimated to total in the neighborhood of $300,000. This will give the lagoon capability of handling the needs of up to 1950 residents.

We started out helping just each other. The idea caught on.

In the village of Wawanesa, Manitoba, helping each other was a way of life. Back in 1896, folks would gather from miles around... to raise a barn, or raise a ruckus.

Naturally enough, when a group of Wawanesa farmers decided to start their own insurance company, they had a pretty good idea of how it would operate. With people helping people. It was a good idea then. It's a good idea now. And it's made Wawanesa one of the largest Canadian insurance companies, with branches in cities and towns all across the country. We offer competitive insurance at competitive rates. But most important, we try to put people before policies; to see the human side of a claim. We're a little more casual. A little easier to talk to. People have gotten the idea that we'll go out of our way to help.

And the idea has caught on.

That's why we're with Wawanesa.

Town sets '97 Mill Rate

The Town of Elk Point finalized their 1997 budget and brought down this year's mill rate at their May 12 meeting, with several new categories introduced. Whereas in previous years there were only Residential, Non-Residential and Machinery and Equipment categories, tax levies are now divided into Residential and Farm Land, Apartment and 4-Plexes, Non-Residential Improvements and Linear, Non-Residential Vacant, MD of St. Paul Foundation, and Machinery and Equipment categories.

Residential taxes and those for Machinery and Equipment are down from last year's figures of 20.588 and 23.321 mills respectively, while Non-Residential taxes increased from last year's 24.908 mills.

This year's lineup is as follows: (ASFF refers to Alberta School Foundation Fund)

RESIDENTIAL & FARM LAND

Canada Day volunteers needed to run activities

Plans for Elk Point's 1997 Canada Day salute to 90 Years of Settlement are progressing well, and it's plain to the organizers that the event could be even bigger and better with the assistance of a few more volunteers.

In keeping with the pioneer theme, activities such as log sawing, nail pounding, tug of war and a horseshoe tournament, along with a pie eating contest for the kids, have been suggested. Are there any groups or individuals out there who would like to organize and run one or more of these events? If so, please call Deanna Easthope at 724-3800 to volunteer.

Forts open for the summer

Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre opened May 15, and will be open daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., until Labor Day. The site will be staffed by Lillian Laboucane, back for her second year, who is collecting admission fees, and Carol Peterson and Christina Sereda, who will act as tour guides and operate the summer day camp program.

Special events this summer are a canoeing instruction workshop on June 28, 29 and 30, a canoe voyage from Fort Victoria from July 3 to 6, the Peter Fidler Descendants Reunion on August 1, 2 and 3 and the Fort des Prairies Jamboree on August 24.

Several other parties of modern-day canoe voyageurs will stop at the site, and a number of wagon trains will also visit during the summer.

A new attraction at the Interpretive Centre this summer will be the ability to explore fur trade and Metis genealogy. Alberta Power has donated a computer to the Friends of the Forts which will be loaded with a genealogy program containing the family trees of a number of fur trade era families. Also helpful in tracing the descendants of the fur traders are three books of Metis genealogy donated by the Elk Point Historical Society to the Elk Point Public Library, which will be loaned to the Interpretive Centre for the summer. "Metis Families -- A Genealogical Compendium," "Manitoba Scrip" and "Northwest Half Breed Scrip" are now at the Interpretive Centre for research use.

Car show plans shaping up

Elk Point's Happy Daze Car Show is set for Saturday, May 31 and representatives of the Elk Point Auto Club and the Chamber of Commerce Merchants' Committee got together last week to plan the event.

Approval has been obtained to close Main Street from 51 Avenue to just north of Railway Avenue from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. that day, and this is where the lineup of antique and collectors' vehicles will be displayed. As in previous years, viewers will be invited to vote for their favorite vehicles in a number of categories, with trophies awarded to the entries receiving the most votes. If you are interested in entering a vehicle but need more information about the show, call Larry Demchuk at 724-2430.

Along with the car show, the downtown merchants are planning sidewalk sales, weather permitting, and local groups are being contacted to operate refreshment booths.

Entertainment is also a possibility. Volunteer singers or musicians who would be willing to perform outdoors that afternoon as part of the show are invited to call Sherry Oszust at 724-2738.

Minor ball season in full swing

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Sports

Yes, it's cold! Feels just like a normal 24th of May in Alberta, and why should it warm up when hockey isn't over yet?

It was a quiet week for the midget Whitesox. With six boys off the midget team involved in the grad rehearsal on Thursday night, the road trip to Wainwright where the boys were scheduled to play Consort, was cancelled and will be rescheduled. No league games had been scheduled for the long weekend. This week the boys play Tuesday night at home against Cold Lake, a team that has always had tough pitchers, and travel to Consort on Sunday, another good ball town, for a mini-round-robin with Consort and Chipman.

In bantam action, the boys played St. Paul on Thursday night on the north hill diamond. Down early in the game by 5-0, the Elk Point manager went to the bull pen for the big left hander from south of the river, Greg Zarowny, who came to the mound and not only shut down St. Paul's big guns, but was a force at the plate when he drove one over the wall. The final 7-5 for Elk Point gives the boys a 2-0 record for the season.

Lois Mutch's peewee boys played .500 this past week, losing to St. Paul #1 Tuesday night, but coming back Thursday night with great pitching from Matt Buksa and Melvin Easthope and a home run by Kenny Nixon as they pounded St. Paul #2 by a score of 26-3.

Many coaches can only dream of coaching the fine collection of athletes that make up the bantam girls team. The talented girls team should have a good shot at provincials this year. Until then, the only problem has been finding tough enough competition. Last Monday night, with a home run by Shalene Slywka, they walked all over Cold Lake 26-4. Wednesday night they travelled to St. Paul to play a double header. With two home runs by Erica Nielsen, including a grand slam, they had no trouble winning both games by similar big double-digit scores. Then on the cold Victoria Day the girls hosted Bonnyville.

Plenty of errors in the field kept things close for a while, until the girls warmed up and with another home run by Erica, they finally defeated Bonnyville by 12 runs to improve their record to 5-0 for the season.

And in soccer, the under-17, in their first home game at the new pitch, lost against the visiting St. Paul team.

Palliative Care holds memorial service to honor those they served

Elk Point Health Centre's Palliative Care remembered the people whose final days they made easier, with a memorial service last week in the health centre cafeteria.

The service began with a prayer and scripture reading by Rev. Sam Donaldson of Elk Point Christian Community Church, who said it was a time of reflect on the lives of these people by family, kin and neighbors.

Rev. Jim MacLellan also read from the Gospel of St. John, and offered a prayer for "each one... has scored an eternal mark on our hearts."

Rev. Doug Moore of St. Paul was also part of the service, and said that while "we know they are in a better place," we have many mementos to remind us of the departed family members and friends. He presented a painting which will serve as a memento of Rev. Norman Hartley.

Family members of the palliative care patients who have passed away participated in a candle lighting ceremony to honor their departed loved ones.

The afternoon concluded with a tea hosted by the Palliative Care Committee members.

MEMORIAL DONATION -- The St. Paul Presbytery, represented here by Rev. Doug Moore of St. Paul United Church, has presented the Palliative Care facility with a painting in memory of the late Rev. Norman Hartley. Mrs. Hartley admires the painting, which she says is reminiscent of Norman's homeland.

Screen Test: A chance for Alberta women to beat breast cancer

Breast cancer continues to be a major threat for Alberta women. In Canada, it is the leading cause of years of life lost and the most frequent cause of cancer death. The question all of us would like to answer, of course, is how healthy women could avoid getting breast cancer. Unfortunately, there is still much work to be done before we have helpful answers for this question. However, we do know that healthy women can greatly reduce their chances of dying from breast cancer through a program of early detection.

Early detection, for women over the age of 50, has three parts:

- * breast self examination
- * examination of the breast by a physician or trained professional, and
- * mammography every two years.

Mammography, or specialized low dose x-rays of the breast, have definitely proven to reduce breast cancer deaths amongst women over 50 who attend regular screening (every two years is generally recommended). For women in this high risk age group, regular attendance for screening mammography can decrease breast cancer death rate by as much as 40 percent.

Screen Test: The Alberta Program for the Early Detection of Breast Cancer is a provincial based program designed to decrease breast cancer deaths in the province. An important part of the Screen Test program is the mobile service, which brings high quality mammography to women living outside of the major cities. The screening is done by specially trained technologists in a comfortable, women-centered environment and education on BSE is available at the sites.

Alberta women can go to Screen Test for a screening mammography if:

- * They are 50 - 69 years old
- * they have never had breast cancer before
- * they have not had a mammogram in the last year
- * they have no signs of breast cancer.

The mobile unit of Screen Test will be in Elk Point at the Elk Point Health Centre on June 2, 3, and 4 and July 15, 16 and 17, 1997. Women in the 50 - 69 age group are invited to call 1-800-667-0604 for an appointment.

Individuals or community groups interested in helping with the hosting of Screen Test should contact Lorraine Berube at 826-3381 (Bonnyville Health Unit) or Marg Saranchuk at 724-3606. A meeting with volunteers has been organized for May 20, 1997. All interested individuals should plan to attend.

Sea Cadet corps 40 years in St. Paul area

Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps Arrowhead is celebrating the 40th anniversary of their founding this year.

In 1957, Lt.(N) John Mahdiuk started the 241 Arrowhead corp. Their first parade was held at Blue Quills School west of St. Paul. After the first parade, the corp went to St. Paul and alternated weeks between the two venues. Lt. (N) Mahdiuk was the commanding officer of Arrowhead from 1957 to 1964.

In 1964 the 241 Arrowhead corp was disbanded, but nine long years later Lt.(N) Mahdiuk got the corp back on its feet. He stayed as commanding officer again from 1972 until 1976, when he gave the command of the corp to Lt. (N) Derek Whitworth, who was commanding officer for one year, 1976-77. In 1977 Lt. (N) Whitworth turned over command to Lt. (N) Moe Vanlonderzel, who was also commanding officer for just one year, 1977 - 78.

Lt. (N) Allen Rusnak took command of the 241 Arrowhead in the fall of 1978, and presided over the parades at the St. Paul Legion Hall until October 16, 1985 when he turned over the command to Lt. (N) Wayne Atkinson. Lt. (N) Atkinson was commanding officer until October 25, 1989, and is now executive officer of RSCC Huron in Cold Lake, AB.

Lt. (N) Atkinson was succeeded by Lt. (N) John Yakimec, who was in turn succeeded in 1994 by Lt. (N) Murray Brooker. In the winter of 1995-95, he turned over the command to his brother, SLt. John Brooker, who has been commanding officer from that time to the present. Parades are still held at the St. Paul Legion Hall.

This year the St. Paul Navy League Branch and the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corp 241 Arrowhead will host their Annual Inspection at the St. Paul Recreation Centre on Wednesday, May 28, starting at 7:00 p.m. sharp. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Harvest begins at seeding

By Kirsty Piquette
Pulse & Special Crop Specialist

If you don't think harvest at seeding time, combining field peas can be a real nightmare. Rolling field peas at seeding time is one tool that can help decrease harvest problems.

When field peas are ripe, the heaviness of the pods force the plant over close to the ground. This means that special attachments known as lift fingers must be put on to the swather so that the vines can be picked up.

These lift fingers float along the top of the ground to get underneath the prostrate vines. If there are rocks, disaster can happen and machinery breakdown can occur. For those who are straight combining, rocks can be picked up causing extreme damage.

Without rolling, ridges of earth can cause real problems in terms of dirt coming into the combine. And it's the dirt coming into the combine that causes the extra wear on the machine when combining field peas. Earth will stick to the peas causing earth tagging, which downgrades the quality of the peas.

The question is commonly asked as to how late can a person be rolling their fields. The rule of thumb is you can do it until the plant is 3 inches high. It can even be done right after seeding.

I always caution growers not to be rolling when they should be spraying. For best weed control and hardness of the pea to herbicides, the pea plants need to be sprayed in the 3-5 node stage which is generally when they are 3 to 5 inches high.

Field peas are quite tough as small seedlings and the rolling does not harm them nor decrease yield. The only caution is that when the plant gets too tall, chances of causing some damage to the stem becomes greater. This opens the door for diseases to enter the plant and cause yield loss.

For more information on growing field peas, feel free to contact me at 645-6301.

Lake parties cause weekend havoc

By Cst. C. M. Shindruk and
Sgt. P. M. Sherstan
Elk Point RCMP Detachment

On Friday, May 16, 1997, RCMP in Elk Point received several complaints from residents of Gregor Beach, Vermilion Beach and Blue Bird Beach that large numbers of teenagers were congregating at cabins on these beaches and creating havoc with residents who wanted to spend a quiet weekend at their cabins.

In years gone by, large numbers of teenagers have landed on these beaches for the May long weekend and caused property damage to cottages, disturbed residents and driven recklessly on the roads between party sites. At times the numbers of teenagers got to 150 or more and got out of hand. This year, however, RCMP decided to try to stop the parties before they grew too large and out of control by setting up check stops to seize liquor that was being transported illegally or being consumed in the vehicle.

With the St. Paul Detachment and police dog on standby, RCMP in Elk Point set up two check stops in Vermilion Beach and dumped in excess of 200 cans of beer and countless bottles of other liquor in accordance with the Gaming and Liquor Regulations on Friday night. On Saturday night, RCMP in Elk Point and St. Paul Highway Patrol again set up check stops and were pleased to report that not a single liquor charge was laid.

RCMP in Elk Point are hoping that people are getting the message about proper transportation of liquor and responsible organization of cottage parties.

What's news at the library?

A peek at the latest additions to the collection

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

After last week's top ten list, I think I will take it easy and offer a peek at some recent additions to the library's collection:

Just in time for this year's gardening season we have Canadian Gardening's Vegetable Gardening, a beautifully illustrated book that shows you how to get the best out of your vegetable patch.

Creative Window Treatments by the Home Decorating Institute starts out with drapes and moves on to some interesting ideas including kitchen curtains made from kitchen towels, faux stained glass and glass etching.

Planning a vacation in Alberta this year? Then check out the Alberta Recreational Atlas, a handy guide to places to visit in our province with plenty of maps to show you where you're gardening, plus lists of campgrounds and interesting viewpoints.

The Consumer's Guide to Feeding Reptiles by Liz Palika tells reptile owners what and what not to feed their reptilian pets.

The library has just received a copy of Barbara Coloroso's best-selling Kids Are Worth It!, a guide to instilling inner discipline in your child.

Overcoming Addictions by Deepak Chopra is a spiritual approach to replacing addictive behavior.

The Truck, Van and 4 x 4 Book 1997 by Jack Gillis has this year's best and worst automotive buys and is an invaluable tool for anyone thinking of buying a new vehicle this year.

Everyone's Guide to the Law: A Handbook for Canadians by Linda Silver Dranoff examines the law at every stage of life, from birth issues to settling an estate.

An Affair to Remember: The Remarkable Love Story of Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy by Christopher Anderson traces the 26 year relationship between two of Hollywood's leading icons, the symbol of fierce independence, Hepburn, and the personification of the rock-solid American male, Tracy.

Into Thin Air: A Personal Account of the Mount Everest Disaster by Jon Krakauer is one man's account of the deadliest season in the history of Everest and why people risk their lives to ascend to the roof of the world.

For those who prefer to listen to their books we have Denial of the Soul by M. Scott Peck which explores the spiritual and medical questions surrounding the hot topic of euthanasia.

Some recent hits at Storytime include:

The teddy bears of the neighborhood band together to deal with the "biggest, meanest teddy bear in the world" in The Big Bad Bully Bear by Ginnie Hofmann.

Arthur becomes jealous when Andy receives another teddy bear from his grandmother in One Teddy Bear is Enough! by Ginnie Hofmann.

IN MEMORIAM

Dawn Marie Tremblay
May 26/73 - May 25/96

Our eyes fill with tears as we think of that day,
When you left us in such a sudden way.
Although we smile and seem carefree
No one misses you more than we.
We hold our tears when we speak your name
But the ache in our hearts remains the same.
No one knows the sorrow we share
When the family meets and you're not there.
Put your arms around her Lord;
Tell her how much we care.
Keep her safe beside you
Until we meet her there.
Others are taken, yes we know,
But she was ours and we loved her so.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Heather and Brad.

IN MEMORIAM

TREMBLAY, Dawn Marie

In loving memory of Dawn, who left us May 25, 1996.

This month comes with deep regret

It brings back a time we will never forget,

In our hearts you will always stay

Loved and remembered day by day.

Memories are treasures no one can steal

Death is a heartache no one can heal;

Life must go on, we know it's true

But it's not the same since we lost you.

Loved and remembered always by your fiancé Brad Johannesson

Dennill's Garage Ltd. becomes Dennill's Agricenter Ltd.

After 69 years of selling and servicing Massey Ferguson equipment; the family owned farm equipment dealership of Dennill's Garage, in Dewberry, is on its third generation. Roland and Morley Dennill recently purchased the dealership from their parents, Headley and Ann Dennill. Headley took over the dealership in 1962 from his father, Vic Dennill, who started the dealership in 1928.

Through the years, the tradition of providing top quality farm equipment with excellent service has been something their customers have always been able to count on. Their parts and service departments are second to none. With over half a million dollars in parts inventory and over a hundred years of experience in their service department, their ability to service old as well as new Massey Ferguson products has always helped their customers to prosper and succeed.

The location and the building may have changed over the years, but the partnership of Massey Ferguson with Dennill's Garage has always been strong. With sixty years experience selling Massey tractors, from the Massey Harris #25 to the new 8150 Massey Ferguson tractor, and fifty eight years experience selling Massey combines, from the Massey Harris #21 to the new 8680 North American built conventional Massey Ferguson combine, Dennill's have always provided their customers with reliable and innovative Massey Ferguson products.

Over the years, other product lines have been added to the list of quality products sold by Dennill's Garage. Flexicoil, Hesston, AGCO Allis and New Idea all have products which are up to the high standard demanded by today's farmers.

In keeping with their innovative attitude, Dennill's Garage Ltd. has been renamed Dennill's Agricenter Ltd. This change, as well as future changes, will help Dennill's Agricenter and their customers to meet today's challenges and upcoming challenges in the next century. •
